Wedding Jewels for Every Bride (And Their Bridesmaids)

This wedding season, both the bride and the bridesmaids are decked out in diamonds. In collaboration with Atmos by Verlas.

It's never too early to start dreaming about the wedding. So, if you're reading this after your first Hinge date, we totally get it. While you might have to partner with your soon-to-be fiancé on a few of the wedding details, both your engagement ring and bridal party will inevitably come down to you.

Picking out your dream engagement ring is part of discovering your own personal style. So, at Coveteur it's a must. Surprises are cute, but an expertly-crafted ring in the cut, carat, and setting that matches your personality and aesthetic would be arguably 10x better. If you'll be wearing it on your finger every day til death do you part, this isn't the time to improvise.

Wedding planning would also be absolutely worthless without an epic wedding party. But, most attempts to curate a goodie bag with the best bridesmaid gifts (trinkets, eye masks, and pajama sets) are often a miss. So, we've rounded up the best engagement rings, wedding bands, and bridesmaid gifts from Atmos by Verlas for every bride and bride-to-be. This wedding season, everyone deserves to be decked out in diamonds.

Bridal Ring Picks

Unlike any other keepsake in your jewelry box, your bridal rings get to shine on your wedding day and every day after. So, before you say "I do," consider the physical manifestation of your love story that you'll place on your finger the morning of the wedding. We're drawn to solitaire stones with infinite faceting and understated matching bands.

Round Diamond Ring

This ring is for the bride that daringly denies anything dainty. There is a je ne sais quol cool factor that it carries, so it works for any destination wedding or last minute elopement.

Iconic Emerald Ring

This piece would look iconic holding your everyday water bottle or that glass of bubbly at your bridal shower. Its art deco-inspired step-cut faceting makes it a must for a classic New York bride.

ATMOS

BUY

Iconic Ellipse Ring

This classic round solitaire isn't just a best seller—it's a ring worthy of being worn forever. It will stack perfectly with simple or pave bands and play nicely with your kids' birthstones in the future.

$1,698 AT ATMOS

BUY

Harmony Diamond Band

This band makes a perfect left or right-hand ring. We love it for the bride who chooses to stack her engagement ring or the one who places her wedding band on the other hand. There's a subtlety about it that every bride can style in her own way.

$799 AT ATMOS

BUY

Bridesmaids Gifts

While monograms, tumblers, tote bags, pajamas, and makeup bags are nice, diamonds are better. A wedding shouldn't alienate you from your best friends, it should bring you even closer. Diamonds have a way of doing that.

Chevron Ring

This is the perfect price point for the best friends who walk down the aisle with you. This type of piece won't get thrown in the back of their closets with every other gift box they've received after your big day.

$599 AT ATMOS

BUY

Bezel Set Diamond Bracelet

This piece is perfect for the maid of honor. If she planned the bachelorette party of a lifetime, she needs a strand of diamonds that will capture the attention of everyone in the room.

$1,799 AT ATMOS

BUY

3-Stone Diamond Necklace

If you're the first of three besties to say "I do," this kind of pendant will remind the other two how much they mean to you. Skip the gift bags and gift cards for this heartfelt statement.

$1,099 AT ATMOS

BUY

Enchanting Atmos Tennis Bracelet

Newsflash: your best friends already have enough pajamas. While a tennis bracelet is typically a bride's gift, we love it for a bridesmaid too.

$1,699 AT ATMOS

BUY

Atmos Diamond Open Hoops

A bridesmaid proposal box doesn't need a bridesmaid robe, it needs a compact mirror and a pair of diamond hoop earrings. Your friends could wear these to your wedding and to every special event thereafter. If she's your best friend, she's worth the splurge.
